Weekly Newsletter—18th March (Week 23)

Talk Homework: Next week is Walk to School Week, what do you think are the benefits of walking to school?

Weekly Update

Another fun filled week here at New Road with so many different learning experiences taking place for our children. Year 6 had an amazing time on their residential trip, they all participated in a variety of activities that took them out of their comfort zone but they demonstrated not only resilience and perseverance but some fantastic teamwork skills as they encouraged and motivated each other.

The children in school all became Scientists during our Science Week as they all took part in a school challenge to build the largest structure using marshmallows and spaghetti. Our winner tower was designed by Bonnie and Elsie in Year 5 and it was a whopping 48cms. Well done to both of you.
